PART 3

Questions 32-34 refer to the following conversation.

캐나다식 발음 → 영국식 발음

M: Welcome to the Excel Corporate Charity Event. If you tell me your full name and the company you are affiliated with, I can let you know which seat you have been assigned to.

W: My name is Prema Khan, and I'm representing my investment firm, Mumbai International. But before I find my seat, is there a place where I can hang my coat? I'd rather not keep it with me all night.

M: First, let me lead you to your table. Then, I would be happy to check your coat for you.

Questions 35-37 refer to the following conversation with three speakers.

미국식 발음 → 캐나다식 발음 → 호주식 발음

W: Hey, Mark and Floyd. Did you guys see the memo about the upcoming changes to the travel expense policy?

M1: Yes, Samantha. I'm glad the company has decided to increase the amount that employees will be reimbursed for transportation to $5,000 per trip.

M2: That'll really help when booking flights for business trips.

W: Don't you think it's a bit high? On my last business trip, I didn't spend more than $1,600 for all my travel expenses.

M1: Sure . . . but your team members don't have to travel internationally.

M2: Exactly. Members of the technology team, like Floyd and I, go abroad frequently to complete projects.

W: Oh, right. I forgot that your department is putting in the computer system for one of our international partners' new headquarters.

Questions 38-40 refer to the following conversation.

호주식 발음 → 영국식 발음

M: Ms. Ellison, is it possible for us to get new computer monitors for the office? The graphic designers say the resolution quality of our current computer screens is rather poor. It seems to negatively impact their work.

W: I've been meaning to do that for quite a while. We couldn't afford to upgrade in the past, but we have enough funds this month. I'll ask the office manager to order high-resolution monitors for all our designers.

M: They will certainly appreciate that. And if you're unsure about which models to get, I can ask the staff for their opinions on the matter.

Questions 41-43 refer to the following conversation.

미국식 발음 → 캐나다식 발음

W: Hi, Adrian. I need to talk to you about our plans for tomorrow. I know I offered to drive us to the amusement park in the morning, but I don't think I'll be able to. For some reason, my car won't start. I'm going to have it towed to a repair center to be fixed.

M: That's OK. Rachel should still have room in her van, so I'm sure we can ride with her instead.

W: Great. Do you think she will also be able to pick me up from my house? Since I won't have a vehicle, it will be hard for me to meet up with everyone.

M: I don't think she'll mind, but I'll ask her anyway.

Questions 44-46 refer to the following conversation.

호주식 발음 → 미국식 발음

M: Beth . . . I'm glad I caught you. Our company is designing Fieldstone Incorporated's new Portland office, so I'm meeting with one of their representatives next week to discuss the project time table. I'd like you to join me.

W: OK. I heard about the new contract, but I didn't know I'd be involved. I assume you're going to be running the project, right?

M: I'm helping out during the early stages. As Jenna Adams is the team leader, I won't really have a supervisory role.

W: This is going to be her first time in a management role, isn't it?

M: Yes. But she has worked on similar projects in the past, so I'm confident that she will do well.

Questions 47-49 refer to the following conversation.

영국식 발음 → 캐나다식 발음

W: Hey, Larry. How are things going here at the ticketing office? I just want to check and see if the new software we installed is working OK.

M: Oh, it's been wonderful! It is easy to use and saves a lot of time. I've been able to serve twice as many customers as usual this morning.

W: That's good news. I was hoping it would make your job easier. Do you think any other agents will need training on how to use it?

M: Yes. Two new employees are starting next week, so I'll have to provide them with some instructions.

Questions 50-52 refer to the following conversation.

호주식 발음 → 미국식 발음

M: Welcome to Prim Hair. Do you have an appointment with one of our stylists today?

W: Oh, I've stopped in to view your selection of merchandise. I use Nature's Touch shampoo and was told that you carry the brand. If so, I'd like to buy some.

M: Yes, we do. Also, we're having a promotion on that brand this week, so everything from that line is available for 10 percent off its normal retail price.

W: That's great. I'll look over what you have in stock.

Questions 53-55 refer to the following conversation.

영국식 발음 → 호주식 발음

W: I just went through the income statement prepared by the accounting team. I'm a little concerned because sales have declined at many of the cosmetics stores we operate.

M: I know. Apparently, our main competitor now offers an online service. Customers can order products through the company's Web site and have them delivered on the same day.

W: That is a lot more convenient than visiting one of our shops in person.

M: That's what I'm getting at. We need to figure out a way to be more competitive.

W: Well, the solution seems obvious . . . We should develop a similar service.

M: Yeah. I'm going to put together a presentation about this for the CEO.

Questions 56-58 refer to the following conversation.

캐나다식 발음 → 미국식 발음

M: Hi, Brenda. Do you have any plans for this Saturday? I was hoping to go to the opening of a photo exhibit at Mendez Gallery with some other members from our department. Would you like to come with us?

W: Thanks for the invitation. I was supposed to meet my friend Peter, but he called and said he couldn't make it due to a family obligation. So, I'd be happy to come with you to the exhibit instead.

M: Wonderful! I'm sure you'll like the nature and landscape pictures at the gallery. By the way, we're thinking of having lunch at a café in the area before going to the gallery. You are more than welcome to join us.

Questions 59-61 refer to the following conversation.

캐나다식 발음 → 영국식 발음

M: Hello, this is Joshua Curtis from Ridley Institute. We were supposed to receive a piece of specialty laboratory equipment from your store last Friday, but it wasn't delivered.

W: Oh, I apologize for that. Your item was most likely included in the recent shipment, which was delayed due to bad weather. Now that weather conditions have improved, your order will be mailed out today.

M: I hope I get the machine soon, because we'll need it for our next research project. Do you know when the shipment will arrive here?

W: It should take about three to five business days.

Questions 62-64 refer to the following conversation and map.

미국식 발음 → 호주식 발음

W: Jonathan, have you found a place to order a cake from for our company's 10th anniversary dinner?

M: I want to use Norman's Bakery again this time. It usually does a stellar job and it's . . . uh . . . right next to Marshall Park.

W: That's true, but they don't offer any gluten-free options, which several staff members require. What about Medley Cakes?

M: Haven't you heard? Medley Cakes closed last month. A new bakery called French Delights took over that location.

W: Hmm . . . I guess we'll have to use Katy's Confections. It's quite expensive, though.

M: Actually, someone mentioned that a new vegan, gluten-free bakery had opened across from where Medley Cakes used to be. I'll try to get in touch with them.

Questions 65-67 refer to the following conversation and table.

캐나다식 발음 → 영국식 발음

M: Hello. I'm interested in taking your center's ceramics course. I filled out the registration form ahead of time and brought it with me today.

W: Great. I'll take the form and get you registered. So, you'd . . . ah . . . you'd prefer the Thursday night class. Unfortunately, that class is full.

M: I see. Well, I'll register for another day in the evening, then. I need to take the class at night, since I work until 7 P.M. every day.

W: OK. You're signed up for the day and time I've circled on this table. If you don't know where the class is being held, I can give you a map showing that as well.

Questions 68-70 refer to the following conversation and bar graph.

호주식 발음 → 미국식 발음

M: We really need to hurry up and finish this sales report so we can make it to today's off-site training workshop in time. It starts in just 30 minutes.

W: Don't worry. We have just a few more things to do. We've still got to indicate that October was when revenues were the lowest.

M: Are you sure? I think the month before we held the promotional event for our EC tablet was when sales were the poorest.

W: Oh, you're right. Let me fix that on the graph. OK. Done.

M: Great. Now, we just need to wrap up the typed summary. Do you think we can do that within a half hour?

W: Should be possible. I have the template from last month's report that we can use as a reference.

PART 4

Questions 71-73 refer to the following telephone message.

 미국식 발음

Hello, this is Jamie Foster at Phoenix Merchandising. This message is for Ms. Helen Rohan. I need to inform you that the specific model of VelociClean vacuum cleaner that you ordered is out of stock. However, we do have something similar called the Weyden Platinum. It is lightweight and removes more dirt from carpets than other models. Because of its design, it's easy to control and move around any indoor space. And since we were unable to fulfill your original request, we can offer you free delivery if you purchase the Weyden product. If you're interested, you should visit our shop, and I'll show the vacuum to you.

Questions 74-76 refer to the following advertisement.

 호주식 발음

Are you in need of a boost to your workout? Then try Power Source, the brand-new enhanced water drink from Pure Athletics. Power Source is infused with various essential vitamins that will give you the extra energy you require during your favorite physical activity. And now, check out our special online promotion. But this offer is only good until supplies run out, so act now. This won't last for long! Pick up a bottle of Power Source today and add some energy to your workout.

Questions 77-79 refer to the following telephone message.

 캐나다식 발음

Good evening, Ms. Jameson. This is Richard Powell calling from Smithson & Howard. As you already know, we are supposed to meet at your office this afternoon to review design plans that my firm created for your new home. However, an emergency meeting has come up, which I must go to at 1 P.M. Consequently, I can't visit you today but will be sending a colleague of mine, Lori Fielding, to take my place. She's very familiar with the plans for your house and can answer any questions that you may have. I apologize for the inconvenience and appreciate your understanding.

Questions 80-82 refer to the following broadcast.

 캐나다식 발음

This is Patrick West reporting live for WRRE Eyewitness News. I'm here at West Wellington Park, and we've got warmer than usual temperatures, a nice breeze, and clear skies again on the last day of the annual Cherry Festival, so come on down. There's something for everyone. Kids will enjoy the exciting rides and games, parents will appreciate the musical and cultural shows, and both will love the delicious food being served by the many booths set up here. The festival will end tonight after the 8 P.M. Mississippi Mounds concert. I'll be joined by the event organizer after a short commercial break, so be sure to stay tuned.

Questions 83-85 refer to the following instructions.

 미국식 발음

Hello, everyone. It's a pleasure to have you all here at The Culinary House. Today, you will be learning how to make homemade pizza. This will be the first of three dishes that you're going to make. I've already set printed booklets on the counters containing all of the recipes that you'll need this morning. Please take them out and open up to the recipe on the second page. Before you start cooking this meal, however, you all need to break up into pairs. Since there aren't enough utensils for each student, everyone will have to find someone else to work with.

Questions 86-88 refer to the following telephone message.

 영국식 발음

Hello, Zack. My name is Allison Peng, and I'm calling from Creative Prime Agency. I've contacted several galleries in the Richmond area about your work and heard back from Electric Space downtown. The curator from that gallery expressed great interest in the contemporary paintings you created and said she'd be delighted to exhibit them there in October. Electric Space's art gallery is a newly renovated building with ample space for your large-scale landscapes. It's hard to imagine a better choice. So, please let me know if you'd like to take advantage of this wonderful opportunity.

Questions 89-91 refer to the following announcement.

 캐나다식 발음

May I have your attention, please? An inspector from the Federal Department of Safety will be visiting our plant next Friday, the 12th. I just want to remind you all of a few things. First, because the inspector will examine each work area, you all must ensure that our safety equipment is in good condition. Following this meeting, I will hand out lists of things to check. Please fill these out and hand them in to your supervisor by the end of the day. Also, there will be a short meeting at 3 o'clock for all departmental managers. Since the conference room has been reserved already, we'll gather in my office. At that time, we will go over the entire schedule of events for the day the inspector visits our facility. OK, that's all for now.

Questions 92-94 refer to the following speech.

 영국식 발음

Today marks an important development for both Hanaway Industries and Glarris Technologies. Now that our two companies have combined to form Hanaway and Glarris Incorporated, we are the largest information technology firm in Europe. By consolidating our resources, we have positioned ourselves to serve clients more successfully than ever. This will surely be a benefit to our customers and the industry as a whole. However, we have a lot of work to do before we become fully operational. To that effect, employees from both of the formerly separate companies must continue to establish effective communication with each other in order to improve efficiency. That will be our primary focus over the next two months.

Questions 95-97 refer to the following telephone message and invoice.

 호주식 발음

Hello, Mr. Meade. This is Matthew from Bellville Interiors. I want to let you know that we'll be able to put up the wallpaper in your new office next week on March 29 rather than April 3, as one of our current projects will end earlier than expected. You wanted us to start as soon as possible, so I assume this plan is acceptable, but . . . um, please call me back to let me know for sure. One more thing. I double-checked the measurements of your office, and it will actually take 11 rolls of wallpaper to cover the walls. I'll update the original invoice and send you a new copy this afternoon. The only change will be the additional charge of $38 . . . plus tax, of course.

Questions 98-100 refer to the following talk and graph.

 영국식 발음

After reviewing last quarter's financial reports, the CEO has decided that we need to reduce expenditures across the board. He asked that all employees come up with ways to cut their department's expenses. So, it's our responsibility to reduce spending in the marketing department. This is a priority, so you should postpone your other projects if necessary. There isn't much we can do about the expense that accounts for the greatest share of our operating budget, but I guess we could try to reduce the next largest item by 20 percent. I have prepared an overview of our department's monthly expenditures to help you with this task. Um, I'll hand it out to everyone in a minute.
