- W: A representative of the state government just contacted me regarding our recent funding proposal. Our request was approved, so the community center is going to be the recipient of a technology grant worth $75,000.
- M: Wonderful! Now we can finally afford to replace the outdated electronics in our computer lab with more modern equipment. People in the community are going to be very pleased with the news.
- W: That's right. However, there are limitations on how the grant money can be spent. So, we'll have to read over the documents carefully before buying computers or other devices.

Questions 35-37 refer to the following conversation.

미국식 발음 → 캐나다식 발음

- W: Good morning, Mr. Abdul. This is Alicia Ponds calling from Davenport Architecture. We received your résumé and cover letter in regard to our associate architect position. And we would like to invite you in for an interview this Thursday. Are you available in the morning?
- M: Thank you for contacting me. I already have an appointment scheduled then, but I'm free that afternoon or at any time before 12 P.M. on Friday.
- W: Thursday afternoon at 2 P.M. will be fine.
- M: I'll mark it in my calendar. Is there anything else I should bring? Like a reference letter?
- W: I'd appreciate an example of a blueprint that you created for a previous employer. Other than that, I have everything I need.

Questions 38-40 refer to the following conversation.

영국식 발음 → 호주식 발음

- W: Do you know why our investor Mr. Herman hasn't gotten in touch with me yet? He was supposed to call at around 9:00 A.M. today, which is when his flight was scheduled to arrive. But it's 9:45 now, and I haven't heard from him.
- M: I just received a message from his secretary indicating that his flight was delayed in Detroit. Apparently, his departure was postponed by an hour due to a severe blizzard. His flight should arrive shortly, however.
- W: Oh, I see. In that case, we'll have to hold off starting the presentation on product development until this afternoon, as Mr. Herman is flying in to listen to it.
- M: Yes, that looks unavoidable at this point. I'll notify the research team.

Questions 41-43 refer to the following conversation.

미국식 발음 → 캐나다식 발음

- W: Pardon me. Is there an ATM I can use other than the one by the bank's entrance? Quite a few people are in line to use that one.

- M: Unfortunately, the only other one in the building is undergoing regular maintenance. It won't be accessible for about an hour.
- W: Hmm . . . I'm in a bit of a rush. I need to withdraw cash before I fly to Vancouver for a business trip.
- M: Well, the teller at the end of the counter is helping another customer, but that shouldn't take too long. You can get cash from her once she's available. I'm sure you'll find that option faster than using the machine.
- W: Yeah, you're probably right. Thanks for the suggestion.

Questions 44-46 refer to the following conversation.

- M: I'm sorry. But all of our technicians are booked through Thursday. With the hot weather, we've been repairing a lot of air conditioners lately. However, one is available this Friday. Would it be acceptable for him to stop by on that day instead?
- W: That would work. We're holding a staff picnic on Friday, so there won't be anyone here to get in the repairperson's way. The building manager can give him access to our office.

- M: Good morning. I work at Spector Industries, and we want to convert a vacant lot on our property into a garden with a seating area. Could your landscaping company handle a job of that scale?

- M1: It costs $30, I believe.
- W: I see. And where exactly should I go to get the shot? I've never been inside the clinic before.
- M1: I'm not sure. Ah . . . I can ask my supervisor, though. One moment, please. Daniel, this customer is interested in getting a flu vaccination at the clinic.

W: It's two days away. But I'd like to rehearse in advance, since I'll be presenting in front of our department head.
M: That makes sense. Well, if you want, I can join you in the conference room to watch your presentation. I'll give you my feedback on it so that you'll be better prepared for any questions that might come up.

W: The apartment is very impressive. But I have another showing tomorrow, which I'd like to follow through with before making a decision on where to live.
M: Of course. Just be aware that another potential tenant saw the unit this morning. Although she has yet to submit an application, she assured me that she was going to do so soon. Whoever turns one in first will be given priority.

W: Yes. He agreed that none of our existing employees will be dismissed immediately. However, all staff will be subject to a six-month evaluation following the purchase to determine whether they will receive contract extensions.
M: Hmm . . . Well, at least everyone will have a chance to maintain their jobs. Have financial figures been discussed at all?
W: As of now, we're being offered $45 million, which our analysts tell me is a bit low. I need your approval to ask the company to pay $48 million instead.

Questions 62-64 refer to the following conversation and floor plan.

미국식 발음 → 호주식 발음

W: Roger, we have to get the auditorium lobby ready before people arrive for tonight's debut performance

W: Can you set up some tables where programs can be handed out?
M: Sure. There are a few in the basement. I'll ask Jacob to help me carry them up here. His shift starts in 15 minutes.
W: OK. And finally, we need a spot where fans can take photos with the cast after the show.
M: Let's put it where it was last year . . . in the area to the left when you enter the building, just before you reach the refreshment stand.

Questions 65-67 refer to the following conversation and coupon.

캐나다식 발음 → 영국식 발음

W: Yes, it's right here. And you're in luck. The product has a retail price of $56, but it's currently marked down by 10 percent.
M: That's great. Plus, I've got this coupon to use.
W: Hmm . . . Unfortunately, it won't be valid for this purchase.
M: Oh, I see what you mean. Well, I'll still take the pad. I need it as I'm going biking this weekend.
W: OK. If you're finished shopping, I can show you the way to the cashier area.
M: Yes, this is all I'm looking for today.

Questions 68-70 refer to the following conversation and flight schedule.

호주식 발음 → 미국식 발음

M: Let's hurry, Kelsey. I'm concerned we won't catch our connecting flight to our destination.
W: Wait—look here. This screen says our flight has been delayed.
M: Yeah, you're right. In that case, I'd like to find a spot in this terminal that provides Wi-Fi. I need to download the lecture notes from the sales conference we attended in Cincinnati.
W: Just so you know, there's a charge to use the airport's Internet service.
M: Really? I'd rather not pay a fee. Well, I should still have time to review the notes before our noon meeting today in Portland.
W: Yeah. Ms. Anderson probably won't ask us much about the conference anyway. She'll be more interested in whether we secured any sales contracts on our trip.

The company has hired a renowned expert on Internet security to conduct this workshop, and I'm certain he will have a lot of useful information to share. You should sign up this morning, though. I was told that the substance he used would kill the weeds within a few days of its application, but a week has passed without any noticeable change. I think he needs to visit my home again. Please call me at 555-0583 to discuss a date and time. I would prefer next Saturday afternoon, if possible. Thank you.

Her enclosure is just this way.
